

History:

· It was originally named The Third Affiliated Elementary School of Taipei Normal University before retrocession.

· In May of 1946, the school was renamed as the Affiliated Experimental Elementary School of The Taiwan Mandarin Promotion Committee to meet the needs for mandarin promotion and education experiments of The Department of Education.

· In 1948, there were 12 classes for children and 2 adult classes, totaling over 700 students.

· In 1949, the kindergarten was established to reinforce its Mandarin education and experimental mission.

· In 1964, the school changed name to The Provincial Taipei Experimental Primary School.

· The school changed name again to The Taipei Mandarin Experimental Primary School in July of 1967 after Taipei City Government took over the management.

· By 2022, the school has over 1500 students, including 54 regular classes, 4 classes for special education and 7 classes from the kindergarten.

Goals:

As educators, our goals are to establish a peaceful and caring environment and to provide a diverse curriculum to develop children with love, vitality, and international vision.

Characteristics:

- Supportive administration
- Resourceful learning environment
- Constructive on-job trainings
- Legacy of education
- Diverse learning activities
- Caring parent-teacher relationship
- Well-planned Special Education

Vision:

