

Hongdao Junior High School

Hongdao Junior High School is located in the Boai Special District, Taipei City, which features an atmosphere of culture and education, abundant resources from the community, high level of resident quality, as well as socially and economically upscale residents. Under the leadership of Principal Liang, the school endeavors to establish a loving campus and a high-quality school that takes moral character education as its core value and develops holistic education. On the verdant and luxuriant campus are magnificent school buildings, devoted teachers who enjoy what they do at work and take it seriously, and diligent and elegant students who know to behave themselves, all of which create an excellent school reputation and a down-to-earth, no-frill style and atmosphere. Surrounded by a number of government institutions and schools, Boai Special District provides an environment that is safe, simple, and free of distractions. Moreover, it is in a convenient location for transportation with Taipei Main Station nearby along with the MRT Red Line and many bus routes available. After relocation, access to school buildings on the campus is now optimized with areas for teaching clearly separated from those for sports and other activities. With teachers' dedication in both teaching and class management, parents' higher social and economic background, and an rather even level of student quality, Hongdao has made its name as a campus of excellent education.

Wise and Farsighted

We cultivate students' abilities to think deep, see far, and become holders of the keys to wisdom.

Innovative

We guide students to think innovatively and realize their full potential as a way to implement a holistic education.

Macroscopic

We cultivate students so that they have a macroscopic view on the environment in which they are a part of and the capability to analyze current issues, identify key trends, and broaden their horizons.
